How Hocksley Beat the Sharpers

ne days ago a country-looking your man drove up to a saloon on Tidge avenue, near Seybert street, in a rickety old buggy, could be counted with ease, while numerou bandages on the legs of the wretched-looking creature gave rise to the supposition that they were necessary to hold the horse together. The harness was old and worn, being tied together here and there by means of twine. It was truly a rustic looking team, nd those who gazed at the horse could not help but think that it was on the way to a bone-yard. As the owner of the strangeooking get-up strode up to the bar and ordered "some licker" he became the center of attraction of three sharpers who made he place their headquarters. > A TEXAS MAYOR Argues the Propriety of Governo

St. Louis, July 28.—The Republican has the following somewhat remarkable special from Palestine, Texas: Mayor Pickens, of Palestine, says that, when the Governors decide on the day, he will issue his proclams tion inviting a general thanksgiving by the citizens here for the recovery of the President. General Storey, the Lieutenant-Governor of Texas, passed through here to-day, and said if a united call is made from the people he will issue a proclamation to the whole State, regardless of the attitude of Governor Roberts. The Mayors of Galveston and Cameron side with the Governor, and refus to join in the thanksgiving requests of the ing to-day the Goodwood Cup was won by Madame Du Barry; Nottingham second, Fernandy Peter, the favorite, not being placed.

Three Tristan as Covernor, and it is evidently conscientiously opposed to it, and the truth also forces me to say that I observe among a large and respectable class of citizens a belief that the President's injuries have been greatly magnified for three ostensible reasons—first, to make great reputation for the attending physicians; second, to make it aptraordinary will-power; and third, that the alleged deception has not been altogether free from political bearing, particularly up Third Race.—One and five-eights of a mile.
